TS PUBLISHED to suit the Departure of each English and French Mail Steamer for Europe. Formerly the Overland issue was published fortnightly; but as it was deemed of special importance that a wookly budget of news should be prepared, it was decided to issue it weekly. Subscribers at Home, and those at the Const Ports and in the interior, who find the Overland edition a convenient form of news paper for their perusal, will welcome the change. The Overland China Mail, now a weekly compendium of news from the Far East, contains special Commercial intelli-gence, special tables of Shipping, and other information. The various Reports of Courts and Meetings, and all other news, are given in full as they appear in the Daily issue.

The attention of Advertisers is directed to a weekly newspaper, which is circulated | Moller. - Siemssen & Co. among old China 'hands' and others, both at home and in the Far East, who do not take the daily journals.

THE Alacrity leaves to-morrow for Singapore, to meet the new Admiral, Sir Nowell Salmon, who is expected to arrive there about the 16th. The Audacious, Constance and Heroine will leave about Friday on the same mission.

An earring-snatcher named Muk Chan At was sentenced to six months' hard labour, by Mr Wodehouse in the Police Court this morning, for stealing a pair of gold rings from the ears of a married woman while she was walking in Graham Street.

Leung Tai, the master of a junk, was charged before Mr Wodehouse, in the Police Court to-day, with obstructing the fairway in the harbour, by anchoring his vessel there. A fine of $20 was imposed, and in default a distress warrant will be issued against him.

A MAN named Cheung Sz was brought before Mr Wodehouse, in the Police Court to-day, charged with decoying a girl away from the Colony for an immoral purpose. Mr Wilkinson appeared for the defence and asked for a remand: His Worship remanded the case to Saturday, and fixed bail at $1000.

THE S. B. Zafiro, which arrived here this afternoon, brought from Manila Captain Colcord and eighteen sailors, the crew of the American ship Henry S. Sanford, which was damaged in the typhoon of 25th Nov. while lying at anchor in Cebu Roads. The Henry S. Sanford has been condemned and is to be sold at auction.

MAR KAN WAN, a bricklayer, and fiv others, were brought up in the Police Court to-day, before Mr Wodehouse, charged with being in possession of property stolen from the house occupied by Captain McArthur in Elgin Street. Police Sergeant Thomas Duncan, who arrested the men in a house in Second Street last night, said he found in the possession of the third prisoner a Canadian two-dollar note, and a remand till to-morrow. His Worship granted the remand, fixing bail at $100 for each of the first three prisoners and $50 for each of the other three.

An Indian constable named Suchata Single was brought before Mr Wodehouse in the Police Court to-day charged at the instance of Mr Horspool, Chief Inspector of Police, with having disposed of his greatcoat by g ving it to a private watchman. The latter was also charged with unlawfully arraying himself in Police uniform; The constable it appeared had continued to wear an old coat himself and gave his last acquired one to his friend. Mr Horspool said it was the first case of the kind that had occurred, and he did not press for a heavy penalty. The constable explained that it was the old coat he intended to give to his friend, but that the latter had put on the new one instead. -out breaking down the price. THE Maharajah of Mysore, now on a visit to Calcutta, has expressed a wish to place the military resources of his State at the disposal of the Government of India with a view to assist in the defence of the Empire. A formal offer has been made to the Vicerov.

HAPPY the local Governments that have wealthy and philanthronic Parsees under their rule. Sir Dinshaw Mancekji Petit has just given the Bombay Government a property valued at three lakhs of rupees as a habitation for the proposed Technical aid of an hospital in Bombay .- Pioneer.

Ir is many years since the traveller who was advised to go and see India remarked that he did not care to do so, as the Government had abolished hook-swinging and widowburning. But some of the inhabitants of that vast peninsula are still given to strange customs of which little or nothing is known to Europeans. It seems that in the Nizam's dominions there is a caste in which this practice prevails. Whereany of its members dies a flag is attached to a bamboo, and the bamboo is given to a man to hold over the corpse of the deceased. Then, having retired to a convenient distance, the men of the caste open fire on the flag, probably by way of showing their distress, and of helping the soul of the deceased on its journey to some other world. But not everybody is a William Tell; and semetimes it happens that the man holding the flug is shot. This actually occurred on a recent occasion, and notice was taken of it by the Nizam's Government. In the Tarida, or Government Gazette, it is made known to all concerned that no flag held over a corpse is to be fired at in the

THE SENSES OF ANIMALS. - What a world of poetic and philosophic suggestion there is in Sir John Lubhock's remark in his address on the Senses and the Senses of Animals, that to insects the world might be full of prasic which we could not hear, colours which we could not see, and sensations which we could not feel. This, no donbt, is an hypothesis capable of explaining many apparently inexplicable actions on the part of insects, and others of the socalled 'lower animals,' whose senses are finer than ours. In the ancient tradition the dog howle because it sees the angel of death, whom our eyes opport see, and Balaam's ass may differ from other asses, not in his quality of seeing the angel of the Lord, invisible even to the prophet his master, but in his capacity of speech. The warder of the gods who sits in the gate of Asgard could hear the grass growing in the fields and wool grow on the sheep's back. How different might be the soul of a man if he had but the eye of an insect! A veritable new Heaven and a new earth lie round each of us. from which we are excluded solely by the density of our senses.

A NOVEL DEVELOPMENT OF LATIN. The bishops of Sardinia have prepared a rather extraordinary jubilee address to the Pope. Their colleagues of the peninsula have contented themselves with congratulating His Holiness in Italian; but the Sardinian prelates seem to have thought that only Latin was good enough for so important a communication; and under the guidance of the Archbishop of Sassari, they have drawn up a document the reading of which should make Cicero turn in his grave. The grammar is fairly good; but Cicero would not recognize the vocabulary. Musouismus does duty for Freemasonry; other worldly wickednesses are expressed by socialismus, rationalismus, protestantismus, liberalismus. atheismus, indifferentismus, materialismus, and epicureanismus; and the whole letter is written in the name of the Sardon gens. he charged the whole six with the pos- A Cagliari newspaper protests that, alsession of stolen property. He applied for though the Sardon gens has the reputation of speaking bad Ralian, its Latin is still classical, and that this jubiled address is a libel on the scholarship of the island. We ngree that it is a fit subject for protest. It would not look well if the English Roman Catholic Bishops were to write to the Pope in the language of the epic which begins :--*Trumpeter unus erat, qui scarlet contum

THE DEVELOPMENT OF 'TRUSTS' IN AMERICA.

-The San Francisco correspondent of the Japan Mail says :- The year will be remembered as the one in which the system of trusts received its first great development in this country. A trust is a combination of individuals or corporations engaged in the same business for the purpose of maintaining prices by adjusting supply to demand; the form of a trust is used in order: to secure for the managers the special privileges and immunities enjoyed by trustees. For many years the coal producers and coal carriers in the East have been banded together in a league which determines at the beginning of the season what emount of coal can be marketed withgate is divided up among the various producers, and each is bound not to mine more than its allotted share. The plan works well-for everybody but the consumors. It has been adopted by the Standard Oil Company, by the cotton seed oil makers, by the sugar refiners, by the whiskey distillers. by the gas companies in Chicago and elsewhere, and by other producers of necessaries of life. The modus operandi is exceedingly simple. All the parties engaged in a particular industry make a showing of the capacity of their works. Accurate estimates are then obtained of popular consumption; whatever excess of production over communition is found to exist is stoppud, and the parties whose works are shut down are indemnified by the trust. The system has the obvious effect of retarding the development of industry, of dimenishing the demand for labour; and of safe income, and is therefore likely to be popular with them. Whether it can be uprooted by the common law, or by statutes expressly passed for the purpose will shortly be ascertained.

Tue successful journey of Lieutonnut Younghusband from China across Contral Asia to India is, a provincial correspondent learns, regarded here as of considerable political importance. The traveller himself had no political object, but the fact that he succeeded in passing without difficulty through regions which no European was previously allowed to visit is regarded as evidence that Central Asia is settling down quietly under Chinese rule, and that the Chinese have lost that violent dislike and distrust of Englishmen, at least in those regions, which they have manifested over and over again towards other travellers.-Overland Mail.

According to the New York Nation, Mr. Edison is to have five hundred of his perfected phonographs ready for the market by the end of this month. Those who have seen the instrument confirm the claim that it practically succoeds in taking, retaining, and reproducing articulate speech. Will i reproduce song also? If Patti or Trebelli sing into it, shall we be able, on receiving a sheet of tinfoil covered with world marks and putting it into our machine and turning a handle, to have the very voice and accent of the dive reproduced? When a great man is dving, will it be practicable to put an Edison's phonograph by his bedside, so that those last words, which are so precious, may be produced at will in the very tone of their utterer? The great speech which sways the nation's councillors loses half its effects when we read it in the columns of a newspaper, - Will it be practi cable henceforth to catch it from the orator's lips into phonograph, and thus re-deliver it unimpaired, to an audience ten thousand miles aways? How much more interesting will the Service at our Cathedral be, when it is known that the pulpit is to be occupied by a phonograph, so that the sermon will be delivered exactly as it fell from the mouth of one of the great home preachers. No doubt all these things will come whether Edison's present phonograph will accomplish them, we have yet to learn.

SOIENTIFIC PROGRESS IN 1887. We take the following extracts from Whitaker's Almanack for 1888 :-

FIRE-PREVENTING APPLIANCES. Automatic sprinklers, the action of which is to shower water in a fine stream. are advocated, and in now theatres fireproof curtains have been introduced. A fire-proof curtain which possesses undoubted advantages over similar inventions, has been demonstrated by Captain Heath, its originator, to be of special service. It is made of canvas; backed with asbestos, and is run up from below the stage by means of leverage gear on either side. On reaching the top it releases a lever which communicates with a water-supply pipe, the result being that a copious and continuous shower the curtain. Prevention being better than cure, attention has been given to fire-proof paints or solutions. The paint which has found most favour is 'Pyrodene,' the invention of Mr Thos. Griffiths. This material can be applied as ordinary paint, which it supersedes, and it is said to render woodwork, scenery, stage, dresses, and textile fabrics perfectly noninflammable. Many theatres have adopted it -Terry's. Drury Lane; at Glasgow, and Brusselsand it was also largely used at the Manchester Exhibition. An outer fire-proof coating is given to wood or any material on which it is used, which causes it to withstand the action of the flame, and when once a charred surface is obtained it is not easy to induce inflammation or complete THE TELEPHONE.

The extension of the telephone has greatly advanced during the past year, and long-distance telephony has become quite common, especially in the North and Midlands. A concession has been granted for allowing a telephonic cable to be laid from London to Paris. If this step proves successful it is certain to be largely resorted to by business men desiring the most prompt means of communication. The rage for automatic machines has not spared the telephone, at all events on the Continent where customers place the equivalent of a penny in the slit of the machine, and are forthwith able to talk for three minutes with their friends or customers. The greatest advance in telegraphy is railway-train telegraphy, now proved to be possible by American experiments. Messages were sent from and received on the moving train without difficulty, one even being sent to London and received accurately worded. TRIEGRAPHIC EXTENSION.

The extension of the telegraph system in England promises to be more than doubled before the year 1888 closes, as important changes are at hand, the British Government taking into its own hands the working of telegraphic communicati n with Bel gium, Holland, Germany, and France. The German Government will purchase and use the cable and plant of the German Union Telegraph Company, and negotiations for the powers of working the French and happily concluded. It is believed that the action of the Post Office will not end here, but that they will take into their own hands the telegraphing and the receipt and delivery of all me sages sent through telegraph companies having cables landing on British shores. In order to effect these improvements the Post Office are to have direct telegraphic communication with the Continent, and contemplate the establishment of a central foreign telegraphic section in Threadneedle Street, close to the London Stock Exchange.

THE CHINA REVIEW. PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY

TENTH YEAR,

HIS Review, which was intended to moot the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its Fourteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the Far East and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction,
